

Fallen for you

Brieve Morison

Maybe if I could believe in you
Maybe I wouldn't feel such a fool
Maybe if I could believe in you
Everything in my head would be cool

But I've fallen for you
From an awful height
I've fallen for you
Have I fallen out of sight

Maybe if I could see my was
Maybe I wouldn't feel so afraid
Don't misunderstand me about being afraid
Living with that is like having a blade
To divide the blues
And I've fallen for you
From an awful height
I've fallen for you
Have I fallen out of sight

I can still close my eyes
I can still see me
Search in for reality

And now I've

I never knew how high or low I was
Only ever understood one word "because"
I never counted up the gain or the loss
Just counted water dripping from a faucet in the loft

And now I've fallen for you
Fallen have I fallen out of sight

Maybe if I could believe in you
Maybe I wouldn't feel such a fool
Maybe if I could believe in you
Everything in my head would be cool
But I've fallen
