

Hardened like a steel nail      Brieve Morison

Now we're hardened like a steel nail
We can take as much as a holy pail
Take one step beyond the holy grail
And we're that far gone.

You can talk to people like there's no tomorrow
To ease your pain and sooth your sorrow
Take one step beyond and your heart may follow
And you're that far gone

You're like a river running down a hill
Whatever you do you always will Take one step beyond just for the thrill
And you're that far gone

We remember time we remember time

And we all make an awful fuss
We think time won't remember us
Take one step beyond as we all must
And we're that far gone

We remember time x4
