

Sunshine under a sky of grey

Brieve Morison

Jesus Christ what a lousy day
I need something to take the blues away
I need loving that's for sure
I needed yours but I'm not insured

I can't get cover
No one will cover me
In the event of an accident emotionally
I'm a freeze frame in a crash
Just before the windscreens smash

They say your whole life passes before you
Your whole life passes you by x2

Gonna take you down down to my height
We'll crawl the streets and see the sights
Watch it rain on a rainy night
And we will see our reflections in the lights
And we'll be sunshine under a sky of grey
Sunshine x2

Jesus Christ what a lousy day
I need something to take the blues away
I need sunshine under a sky of grey
Sunshine x2
