

We who admire gifts

Brieve Morison

It's not because we wear clothes
We can call ourselves sane
It's not because we can speak
That we have a name
We who admire gifts
Can choose to deny them
We who admire gifts can choose
We who admire gifts
Can choose to deny them
We who admire gifts can choose

It's not because we have god
That we know what's going on
It's not because we have time
That we carry on
We who admire gifts
Can choose to deny them
We who admire gifts can choose x2

It's not because we are what we are
That we have certainty
It's not because we are what we are
That it has to be
We who admire gifts
Can choose to deny them
We who admire gifts can choose x2
